

A GLORIOUS EASTER.

The Finest Day for a Long Time
Finely Celebrated Yesterday.

THE RESURRECTION ANNIVERSARY

Observed More Generally and Fittingly than Usual in This City—Special Services in all the Churches Attract Congregations which Pack the Houses—The Day's Other Features

Seldom, indeed, is finer weather seen than that of yesterday. It was almost perfect. Nobody could remember a brighter, more beautiful Easter Sunday. The weather bureau's prediction of a fall of degrees in the temperature was more than realized, the mercury being as high as 67 on Saturday and as low as 35 yesterday, a fall of 32 degrees. But this did not make the air too cool, as by afternoon the reagent had commenced, and the mercury was again above 60.

The sky was blue and bright as an infant's eyes, and the sun as genial as in May. Everybody took advantage of this. Men, women and children were out in such numbers as to throng the streets. New gowns, new bonnets and new suits were a great feature of the day. It is on such a day that one finds ocular demonstration of the fact that Wheeling has more beautiful women and pretty girls than any other town of equal population. On every street yesterday one met them, singly, in couples or by twos, and with their ray spring bonnets and light wraps or gowns they converted the streets into temporary flower gardens.

It was a great day for outings into the rural regions. Everybody who had a private carriage or buggy took an outing, while many hired vehicles and did likewise. It looked, too, as if every bicycle in the town and many from other towns were on the roads. Even promenaders were unusually numerous in the suburbs, while the street car, bus and carrette patronage received a sudden stimulus.

The Elm Grove motor cars were packed at every trip. Many people visited Wheeling park, though it has not been formally opened, and may not be until the last Sunday of April. People who are building new houses out of the road—and there are many of them—took their families and friends out to look them over. It was as great a day east of the city as in town.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCES

The Churches More Largely Attended than for Years.

It is a safe proposition that in the aggregate more people attended church in Wheeling yesterday than on any Sabbath for years. The number of different churches which had special observances was larger than usual, and this, with the bright sky and bracing air conspired to draw to some house of worship almost everybody who ever goes to one.

Music and flowers were, as usual, the leading features of the observance of the joyful anniversary of the day on which the Lord arose from the tomb and became the Resurrection and the Life to man. Both in churches and homes flowers beautified the scene and made fragrant the air. It was worthy of notice how largely the flower merchants were patronized Saturday. Nothing like it was ever known in Wheeling. They shared with the confectioners the rush of buyers preparing for Easter, who until a late hour Saturday night crowded the main streets as it is customary to see them on Christmas eve.

AT THE CATHEDRAL.

At St. Joseph's Cathedral all the special services, which continued at brief intervals throughout the day, were unusually well attended. The opening was at 6 a. m., when Right Rev. Mgr. Sullivan celebrated mass. Even at that early hour the large church was well filled with people, many of whom were attending, attracted by the grand music.

At 9 a. m. Rev. Father Reynolds officiated at the second mass, which again attracted as many people as the church could easily accommodate, many going then last at the later services they could not secure seats.

The principal service of the day was at 10:30, when Right Rev. Bishop Kain, assisted by Mgr. Sullivan, Rev. Father Parker, Rev. Father McElligott and Rev. Father Reynolds, celebrated in the presence of a congregation which packed the Cathedral solemn pontifical mass. Some special music by the choir added to the impressiveness and beauty of this service.

In the afternoon the usual vesper services were again well attended.

At St. Alphonsus's Church and the Church of the Immaculate Conception the services were the same as at the Cathedral, with the substitution of high mass for the pontifical high mass. At both churches, also, the services were all well attended.

AT ST. MATTHEW'S.

At St. Matthew's Church the profusion and beauty of the floral decorations were notable features. The church never was more attractively decorated. Everywhere the white Easter lilies brightened the interior, and other flowers gave variety of hue and form. The musical programme heretofore announced was carried out, this being one of the most pleasing features of the day.

Rev. Dr. Swopes preached an eloquent and appropriate sermon on the Resurrection using no manuscript or notes to aid his delivery. Though unusually long, the services seemed unusually short.

The special service at 7 o'clock in the morning was largely attended, considering the early hour, and it was a beautiful and inspiring one.

The usual Easter offering was liberal, even for St. Matthew's.

In the afternoon services of a most attractive character were held at the pretty new edifice, St. Paul's chapel, at Elm Grove. The congregation packed the little church.

FOURTH STREET M. E.

Rev. Dr. A. B. Riker officiated at both morning and evening services. Though the Fourth street church is the largest in seating capacity in the city, it was well filled. Ladies in new and bright colored Easter costumes were numerous and gave the scene a bright appearance, exceeded only by the brighter day and weather. The church was very tastefully decorated, and the singing by the choir was excellent.

The latter was under the direction of Prof. J. W. Seefeldt and included the following: Sopranos, Miss Kate Land, Mrs. Frank Stanton, Mrs. J. H. Travis, Miss Matilda McNamee and Miss Reed; alto, Miss Bird Chapman, Mrs. Cartwright and Miss Rida Dean; tenors, O.

P. McKee, Harry Bell and John Dowlor; basses, J. Harvey Devore and Henry Bowen; organist, James H. Perry.

At the morning services the Easter anthem by Schnecken, and Williams's Offertory were well rendered. In the evening "Zion, Awake," and "Christ, Our Passover," were beautifully sung.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN.

Three services were held yesterday at the English Lutheran church on Sixteenth street, at which the pastor, Rev. Dornblazer officiated. The first was a sunrise service, which commenced at 6 o'clock and was remarkably well attended. The regular morning services brought out one of the largest congregations ever seen in this church edifice, numbers being compelled to go away without gaining entrance. Communion services were held, and 43 new members of the church were received. The services in the evening were almost equally well attended, and the pastor preached an eloquent sermon. Nine children were baptised.

The floral decorations at the English Lutheran were very beautiful, and gave the interior a joyous appearance. The singing was also very fine.

AT ST. LUKE'S.

St. Luke's church was crowded at both morning and evening services. The interior was beautifully decorated, the chancel, altar and choir, railing being literally buried amidst smilax, Easter lilies, hydrangea and other flowers. Some of the lilies were sent from the Bermuda Islands. The Easter offering for the new parish house was unusually large, amounting to nearly $300.

Rev. Jacob Brittingham, pastor, in the morning took for his text II Timothy, ch. 1, last half of the 10th verse: "Who hath abolished death, and hath wrought life and immortality to light through the gospel."

In the evening his text was from the Acts of the Apostles, chapter 1, verse, "To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God."

The choir is made up as follows: Sopranos, Mrs. Fred Seymour, Mrs. J. P. Rodgers, Miss Minnie McClement; alto, Miss Grace Pinnell, Miss Belle McGraham; tenor, T. J. Danner and A. C. Stewart; basso, Will McCay and Archie Taylor; organist, Miss Annie Sage.

The full choral service was not carried out at the evening service, but will be repeated on next Sunday evening.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

At the First Baptist church the day was one of the most interesting in its history. Rev. Dr. Peters, of Parkersburg, state missionary, preached both morning and evening. In the morning there was one immersion, and last evening communion was celebrated. In the afternoon a mission Sunday school was organized on the island. It will meet in the old Democratic wigwag, recently purchased by the church.

The church was decorated with flowers to some extent yesterday, but this was not made as much of a feature as in some of the others. The fact is that every Sunday the year round this church is more or less beautified by flowers, a custom which is commendable. There was not a Sabbath through the winter that there were not at least two or three bouquets in the church. The congregation has grown steadily, if not rapidly, through Mr. Irey's pastorate, and the church is now in better condition than ever before.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Morning and evening services at the First Presbyterian church were interesting. The front of the pulpit was ornamented with potted lilies. The new choir, under direction of Prof. Ricardo Ricci, was heard for the first time: Mrs. Bevard, of Cadiz, soprano, supplying the place of Miss Lindsay, who will hereafter fill the place; Miss Williamson, Martin's Ferry, mezzo soprano; Mrs. Crowl, Martin's Ferry, contralto; Harry F. Sweeney, basso; W. B. Day, tenor; Miss Bell, organist. The sextette rendered Verdi's "Praise Ye" very acceptably. Wheat's fine composition, "Christ is Risen," was given by Mrs. Bevard, Prof. Ricci and Mr. Day. Rev. Dr. Cunningham preached a strong sermon from Mark 16:6: "He is risen; he is not here; behold the place where they laid him." There was a very large attendance.

AT OTHER CHURCHES.

At all the German Lutheran churches the day was observed with joyous services. Flowers were profuse. At Zion's Lutheran church the congregation was so large that chairs had to be placed in the aisles to accommodate the people. Rev. F. Ziegemeier preached an earnest sermon, appropriate to the occasion, taking for his text the words, "He is risen from the dead."

At the Second Presbyterian church Rev. Dr. Cooke preached an eloquent sermon, and a very beautiful service of song added to the enjoyment and significance of the celebration. Scarcely a church in Wheeling failed to have services worthy of the day, memorable in character and unusually well attended.

NOTES ON NAVIGATION.

Stage of Water and Movements of Boats.

The river is still falling. There was only 8 feet 4 inches in the channel at midnight.

To-day the Ben Hur, for Parkersburg, at 11:30 a. m., is the only packet.

Yesterday's packets were, the Annie Laurie, for Zanesville, at 4 a. m.; for Pittsburgh, the Ben Hur, at 5 a. m.; Lizzie Bay, at 8 a. m.; Keystone State, at 8 a. m.; the Sunshine, for Parkersburg, at noon, the Congo, for Cincinnati, at 8 a. m.

Capt. William Campbell, of the steamer Jessie K. Bell, and who was also captain of the famous Robert E. Lee, received an invitation the other day to be present at the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, to be celebrated at Tiltonville, Ohio, March 30. Captain Moore, whom Capt. Campbell knew in his boyhood days, is remembered as one of the best and most popular pilots and captains ever engaged on the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Mrs. Moore and Captain Campbell were schoolmates in Wheeling, W. Va. The receipt of the invitation from his old and valued friend revived the memories of the childhood days of the captain, the happiest, really, in the lives of all men, and the pleasant recollections of which were but marred by the fact that he could not go to meet such friends.—New Orleans Delta.

The Evolution

Of medicinal agents is gradually relegating the old-time herbs, pills, draughts and vegetable extracts to the rear and bringing into general use the pleasant and effective liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs. To get the true remedy see that it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only. For sale by all leading druggists.

THE CARPENTERS' STRIKE.

The Men are out, and no New Developments are Reported.

The carpenters' strike went into effect Saturday, the demand of the men for a "horizontal increase" of 20 per cent in wages not having been conceded by the employers. So far there has been no development of interest since the men quit Friday evening, except that a few of those who have been working did not go out.

At Beltz, Flading & Co.'s, for instance, the foreman and several men remained at work. This firm, however, compromised with those men whom it especially desired to retain, granting them 10 per cent increase. A few non-union men who were willing to remain at these terms applied, but were refused by the company.

One or two carpenters heretofore working for wages have arranged to take contracts in the future, and employ their fellow workmen at the new union scale. This co-operative arrangement reminds one of the outgrowth on the same line of the last strike. Woods Bros. went into the business then on the same plan, the stockholders being carpenters. Now they have a large establishment, and the firm is firmly with the Builders' Exchange.

At least one contractor, so the men say, will pay the increase asked at once and go on with his work. Others have conditional offers pending with the union's members to continue work at the old wages, the increase to be paid for the time from 'to-day if the men finally win. Several other compromise propositions are also under consideration.

Just how many of the men who have been working remain at work could not be reliably learned. The members of the union say they are all non-union men, while others claim that there are a few union men still at work. Definite developments cannot, however, be expected for a day or two yet, as both sides want to look around and see "where they are at."

THE STREET CAR STRIKE.

It Was Thought the Company Would Surrender Before April 1—A Leader Thinks It Is Lost.

It is learned from a correct source that the striking electrical street car workers confidently expected that the present street car strike would come to an end in their favor before the first day of April. That was the maximum time given the Wheeling Railway Company to hold out against its employees. The fact that the company has not fulfilled expectations and surrendered has been a bitter disappointment to the leaders and the rank and file of the men who went out on the strike. The INTELLIGENCER's informant also said that in his opinion and that of many others, the strike is lost: It was not expected the company would be able to fight this long, and as far as can be seen there is not as much probability now of a surrender on the company's part as there was at the start of the strike.

The car and cab scheme has not panned out as well as was expected. On the same authority, it is learned that all the profits the strikers derived from the entertainment at the Grand Opera house were spent in leasing the carottes, and these have only paid expenses.

Three of the largest stockholders in the Wheeling Railway Company, Messrs. A. B. Champion and W. R. Kimball, of Cincinnati, and W. W. Hazard, of Cleveland, are in the city. It was said yesterday that their presence here means a settlement of the strike, presumably by a backdown on the part of the company, but the gentlemen deny this, saying their visit has no connection with the strike, and that they are here simply to look over the recent improvements made in the Wheeling system.

The Rioters Convicted.

The trials of the four men, Ernest Stegman, Close and Schultz, charged with being implicated in the street car riots some time ago at the Forty-eighth street barns, of the electric railway, came to a conclusion Saturday at Moundville in the circuit court, ending in convictions. The maximum penalty is $100 fine, imprisonment for one year, or both. Sentence has not yet been passed.

THE FEAST OF SEDER.

The Jewish People Enjoy an Old-Fashioned Celebration.

From time immemorial it has been the custom of the Jewish people to celebrate the opening of the passover season with a feast called "Seder." Annually the family gathered about the board, with the head of it presiding. After the opening service in the synagogue at the present passover season, Rev. Dr. Bonheim, the rabbi of the congregation, celebrated this ancient feast over 120 of the gentlemen and ladies of the church being his "family" of guests. The feast was given in the school room of the beautiful new synagogue, where five long tables were spread.

First the Seder plate, containing bitter herbs, and the Matz, or unleavened bread, were found. These, the learned rabbi explained, were to impress those present that with all the beauty and present of the earth, they must yet sometimes be called, as their fathers were, to eat the bitter and unpalatable and to partake of the sorrows of life.

Then a magnificent banquet was served, which needed no explanation at the hands of the rabbi. It was discussed with an interest and a relish which was even higher compliment to the abundant and toothsome fare than the warm praise afterwards spoken by all the delighted guests. It was the first public celebration, owing to the lack of a fitting and roomy place in the past, and it certainly reflected credit on Dr. Bonheim.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS

Will be Commenced Immediately at the McLure.

The new lessees of the McLure House, McLure brothers, are to make extensive improvements in that popular hotel, including a new and independent electric light plant, tile work, mantels, etc.

The electric plant house will be built in the rear of the engine house, will be brick, two stories high. The upper story will be used as a kitchen. The capacity of the electric plant will be sufficient for 700 incandescent lights and several arcs. The contracts were let Saturday as follows: Apparatus, La Roche Electric Company, Philadelphia; steam plant, Russell & Co., Massillon, O. The construction will be under the supervision of Mr. J. W. Crosby, of Baltimore.

Timble & Lutz got the contract for plumbing work, including new lavatories.

B. F. Caldwell does the tile work, and will also put in new mantels throughout the house.

The contract for wood and brick work on the electric plant building will be let to-day.

It is estimated that the proposed improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.

Hood's Cures

Terrible Headaches

Distressed and Discouraged

Health all Broken—Thoroughly Built up by Hood's Sarsaparilla

Mrs. Eva Covert
Of Bath, N. Y.

"I am glad to have my experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla widely known, because the medicine has done me so much good. I think it will benefit others who are out of health. I was in a very distressing and discouraging condition. I had no appetite whatever; could not sleep well; suffered with excruciating headaches. I felt

Tired and Languid,

Had no ambition and seemed all broken down. After I had taken medicine prescribed by two of our best physicians, a kind neighbor advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I followed her advice, and the result is, I am perfectly well. I do not have the headaches now, sleep well, that tired feeling is vanished, and I am bright and ambitious. I can eat heartily at every meal, and have gained in weight from 94 to 105 pounds. I do not have any distress in my

A GOOD SHOW

We are always advising you to advertise, and to keep on advertising, but that does not cover the ground entirely. Of course, you should make your advertising effective—if an electric light be available, you should not use a "tallow dip" to light the path to your store.

What do we mean by that? Simply that the more conspicuous, the more artistic, the more attractive, the more original you make your advertisements, the more people will see and read them, and the more customers you will have to contribute to your cash-drawer.

Study effects in bold pretty type—good matter may be spoiled by ugly dressing. Seek to catch the eye by a display of good taste in the style and arrangement of your announcement.

Above all, let it be bold enough to be easily read. Don't vex a reader by vexing his or her eyes!
